MANY MEETINGS SCHEDULED FOR TO-DAY

City Council, Board of Safety and Board of Public Works to Meet.

Many meetings will be held to-day and tonight of the city officials and officers. The City Council, Board of Works and Board of Safety are to be gathered in regular and special sessions.

The first meeting will be that of the Board of Safety at 3 o'clock this afternoon. This is the regular meeting of that body. No business of special importance is to come up. A report of more than ordinary interest will be submitted, however. This will be on the cost of feeding prisoners, since the city assumed charge of the matter. Formerly it was awarded, by contract, the city paying $150 per month. Now the food is prepared at the station, and the report will show a saving of between $50 and $75, besides furnishing better food.

The session of the Board of Works will be held at 5:30 o'clock, but there is no business of importance to be transacted.

At 7 o'clock the City Council will meet in adjourned session. The meeting was to have been held last week, but on account of lack of quorum was adjourned subject to the call of the mayor. At the meeting to-night the bond issue will be discussed at length. The meeting therefore, is a very important one, and should be well attended by the aldermen.

School Clothes

Every school boy must be outfitted about now for the fall term. Boys—the right kind of boys, with plenty of life in them—need suits of cast iron to withstand the service given them.

Here is where we have a word to say: Boys' clothing to wear must be made well, of good materials but all the superb fabrics in the world won't give service if the places where strain comes are not reinforced and properly sewed. Because our Boys' Clothing is so made, we say it is

"Best by Test."

If you've tried our kind, you know; but if not, for what your boy needs, come in. We've Suits, Caps, Shirts, Shoes, Stockings, Extra Trousers, or anything and everything in Boys' wear.

PENSACOLA CHILD DIED AT BREWTON

DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. J. W. MALOY PASSED AWAY AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS MONDAY NIGHT.

Special to The Journal. Brewton, Ala., Oct. 31.—Gladys, the little three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maloy, of Pensacola, who has been spending the summer in Brewton with Mrs. Maloy's mother, Mrs. S. J. Mayo, died at 8 o'clock last night after a brief illness. The funeral was held at 2:50 o'clock this afternoon, and the remains were laid away in Alcoa cemetery.

While there is no relaxation in the quarantine against yellow fever infected districts, the special city guards, who have been taken off, the city marshal now looking after, all refugees coming this way.

About one-half the usual amount of cotton has been brought to market that is usually sold here by this time of the year. The market has been good, but the crop is short and later than usual.

There will be two games of basketball played in Brewton next Friday between the Barton Academy team of Mobile and the Brewton Institute team. The afternoon game will be played in the City Park and the evening game in the Institute Hall.

Origins of Texts. The custom of taking a text as the basis of a sermon originated with Ezra, who, accompanied by several Levites in a public congregation of men and women, ascended a pulpit, opened the book of the law and, after a prayer, "read in the book in the law of God distinctly and gave the sense and caused them to understand the reading."

Previous to the time of Ezra the patriarchs delivered in public assemblies either prophecies or moral instructions, and it was not until the return of the Jews from the Babylonish captivity, during which they had almost lost the language in which the Pentateuch was written, that it became necessary to explain as well as to read the Scriptures to them.

Elongated Palates. It is not an uncommon thing to suffer from an elongated palate, which causes great discomfort in various ways. It is inflamed by cold and then aggravates a persistent cough. It brings a sense of oppression in one's breathing, and it is sure to make itself felt in long continued talking. Doctors are generally loath to touch it. Perhaps the most quickly efficacious treatment recommended by them is gargling with alum water just before brushing the teeth. This has been known to work a radical bettering of the distress.—Pearson's.

Jumping. Long and high jumping alike give elasticity of movement to the person with sluggish, heavy gait. The high jump should be practiced over a piece of cotton fixed to two poles or other supports. This cannot possibly occasion a fall. A piece of white paper run on the cotton near the center will be easily distinguishable. The student unused to jumping should begin with a nominal height, say twelve inches, increasing this as advance is made in proficiency.

Good Taste. "What a homely shirt!" "Yes, my wife picked it out." "Why, man, haven't you any taste yourself?" "Not for a quarrel with my wife."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MOTHERS, DO YOU KNOW the many so-called birth medicines, and most remedies for women in the treatment of her delicate organs, contain more or less opium, morphine, strychnine?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not take internally any medicine for the pain accompanying pregnancy?

Do You Know that Mother's Friend is applied externally only?

Do You Know that Mother's Friend is a celebrated preparation, and that it has been in use over forty years, and that each bottle of the genuine bears the name of The Bradford Regulator Co.?

Do You Know that when you use the remedy during the period of gestation, that you will be free of pain and bear healthy, hearty and clever children?

THE EVERGLADE DRAINAGE PROJECT

Undertaking that is Much Larger Than Appears at First Sight.

The last issue of the St. Pierre Tribune had the following interesting article relative to the drainage of the Everglades:

In the matter of the projected canal from Lake Okechobee to the St. Lucie river, very little consideration is required to form the conviction that it is a pretty large undertaking. Two bodies of water, separated by twenty miles of country, of which the lake is fourteen feet higher, and which is required to be lowered six feet by connection with the other, present a problem for whose solution the best engineering talent of the country will be needed.

In enterprises of such magnitude sometimes happens, quite excusably, we think, that the project falls somewhat short of completion. In the contest between man and Nature our good old mother proves that, in spite of repeated insubordination, we are still her children, and subject, as such, to occasional restrictions and limitations. We trust and believe, however, that Governor Broward and the corps of capable assistants whom he will select will be in every way equal to the occasion.

Let us consider the conditions of the task which lies before them: A large body of water, already partially drained by the Caloosahatchee river, with which it is connected by a canal, still overflows its banks, and has been stated, is required to be lowered six feet from its present average level. A canal to accomplish this must correspond to a respectable river. It has been proposed to make it a tide-water canal; and a depth of fourteen feet is required at the upper end to reach the level of the St. Lucie river, which will be only the high-water mark of the tide level. Probably the overflow from the lake would give a depth of water sufficient to float such vessels as would traverse the canal. The breadth of the canal has not been determined, but it is to be sufficient to keep the lake drained to the proposed level. With the tremendous amount of water lying on the Everglades, the cross-sectional area of the canal must be considerable to accomplish this. A great deal of excavating will be necessary. After the proper depth is reached the current will carry away large quantities of earth, and it is improbable that in a few years the canal will compare with many of our coast rivers, which, while not swift of current, are often from fifteen to thirty feet.

We believe the drainage of the Everglades to be one of the most unique enterprises ever attempted in this country. It will make available vast tracts of valuable farm, pasture and timber lands, and may open up an important inland waterway. It is nearly a parallel with the famous drainage of the Zuider Zee in Holland, where an arm of the sea was dyked, pumped dry and made available as fertile farm lands.

Horses in the Klondike. "In November, 1898," says a book on the trails and in Dawson. There was neither work nor feed for them. Horses were offered to me for their keep, but I refused. These same horses wandered up in the hills, where the snow was five feet deep. They brushed the snow away with feet and nose, finding luscious whortleberries, blackberries and raspberries in great quantities. The lowest authentic record at the barracks was 57 degrees below zero. Yet in the spring the horses were reclaimed by their owners and looked infinitely better than when turned out to die at the beginning of the winter. This was a lesson as well as a revelation. During the summer of 1899 horses were imported into the Klondike in numbers, and 1,200 of them passed the next winter in transporting men and supplies from Dawson to the mines. The dogs were almost entirely superseded, and their value, formerly $150, became merely nominal, for a good horse, after all, could pull a ton over the smooth icy trails—a labor that would require three sleighs and twenty dogs."

Heroism in Animals. Animals are capable of what we should call heroism in man. In one field was a donkey, in another a horse. Through the first went a mastiff and made for the ass, seized him by the throat, pulled him down, and that so suddenly that the donkey looked likely to be killed. The horse in the next field leaped the hedge dividing the two pastures, collared the dog with his teeth, swung him and like a baseball player caught him on the fall—with his heels. The mastiff was whisked over the hedge which the horse had just crossed, and the donkey was left in peace to recover from his wounds.

Sympathy. "Boss," began the beggar, "won't yer help a poor?"

"See here," interrupted Goodheart. "I gave you some money last week."

"Well, gee whiz! Ain't yer earned any more since?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

When a man fools his wife and is ashamed of it, it is not so serious, but when he thinks he has a right to fool her, that is serious.—Atchison Globe.

Dr. Porter Receives Telegrams from State Health Officials on Fumigation and Quarantine.

In commenting upon the work of the State Board of Health of Florida during the yellow fever in Pensacola, the statement was made Monday that the work of the Marine Hospital service in New Orleans was so far superior to that of the local officials that fumigation had stopped in New Orleans some weeks ago. This is only another one of those statements which are not borne out by the facts.

The following telegrams are self-explanatory and show that fumigation is still being done:

From Louisiana.
Pensacola, Oct. 31, 1905.
Dr. J. H. White, Surgeon Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, in charge sanitary matters, New Orleans, La.

Have you stopped fumigation altogether, if so state. If you have not ceased fumigation, how much and to what extent is it now being done. Wire answer.

PRaise FOR THE SQUIRT-GUN MACHINES

John J. Keeffe Tells How the Sprayers Rid His Place of Mosquitoes.

Mayor Bliss, who received many letters congratulating him upon the success of the spraying machines, or "squirr-gun" machines, as they are commonly known, among them being the following, which is self-explanatory:

"Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 30, 1905.
"Hon. Chas. H. Bliss, mayor city of Pensacola.

"Dear Sir:—On the 20th inst. I got from you a small sprayer and some spraying fluid. I used it that evening and the next day according to your directions in my house, which was a regular mosquito garrison. I think the mosquitoes held their ground in various uniforms, and I would not be surprised but I had an Amazon regiment, composed of stegomyias in the bunch.

"On the 22nd inst. the fumigators under Frank Maura visited my place at 10 a. m. and put in sulphur pots. I asked Mr. Maura if he could allow me the use of the pots longer than two hours without interfering with his work. He kindly allowed me the use of them until 3 p. m., a full five hours. The orders of the foreman were to collect from each house mosquitoes found dead after the fumigation was over, and I am glad to inform you that not a single one were they able to find after a careful search. Of course I swept my place thoroughly after using your spray, the evening before. I want to say for your satisfaction that the adjoining houses had their share of mosquitoes to be sent for classification, but none from mine.

"I consider your idea of spraying just the thing for doing away with the deadly mosquito. I should think that you might be able to get the citizens in line for using the sprayers regularly next spring.

"Don't you think that if the city supplied the fluid free to the owners of sprayers it would be a good investment, and as I understand it would not cost more than one dollar per gallon, and with the regular addition of water one gallon of fluid would charge a small sprayer nearly one hundred and twenty-five times.

"Wishing you great success, and let us pray that the thing will not occur again.

"Very truly yours,
"JOHN J. KEEFFE."

Antiquity of Man. The antiquity of man has long been a favorite subject of speculation. Of late years the tendency has been to drive the origin of the race farther and farther back. Herr Schwabe, a German naturalist, who published an essay on the subject, regards the existence of mankind in pre-glacial times as fully established, and he is even inclined to place man in the tertiary period. This would be "homo primigenius," a rather near relative of "Pithecanthropus erectus" and some of the more anthropoid of living apes. But there are missing links. In this country the principal question has been whether man was pre-glacial, and of his being so no trustworthy evidence has been found. As the period of glaciation, when nearly the whole land was under an ice cap, endured many times as long as all known human history, it becomes a crucial part of the problem whether man was here before the glaciers or after. If before, then his story stretches far back indeed. A very small portion of the earth and that so far as ancient man is concerned, not the most promising, has yet been explored geologically.—London Telegraph.

A Debt to Columbus. It is customary to praise Christopher Columbus for many noble characteristics, to say nothing of his far seeing intelligence, but the south owes him a special debt of gratitude for the presence that led him to bring the watermelon to America when he first came. The first watermelon seeds were turned loose to hustle for themselves on San Salvador island, and thence the hungry Spaniards took them to Florida. When once the succulent melon was started in America it took care of itself in the struggle for existence.

The watermelon is said to be the most ancient of all the edible vegetables in Asia, where it is supposed to have first originated. The melon was cultivated in France certainly as early as 1629, and was a favorite dish with the early Greeks and Romans. So much for its ancient history. Its present record is a brilliant example of what even a melon can do by steady attention to business.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Ministers, Doctors and Temperance Workers

Use and Recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as the Only Effective Cure for Lung, Stomach and Nervous Diseases.

"I THANK GOD THERE IS SUCH A MEDICINE," WRITES DR. McLEOD, an active minister for 50 years. "For more than 40 years I had been afflicted with dyspepsia and nervous prostration. At times I was so run down I could not attend to my ministerial duties. Could neither eat nor sleep. I began taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It gave me strength, helped my digestion, settled my nerves, and I gained 30 pounds in one month. I recommend those who are weak, broken down, nervous, to take 'Duffy's.' Greenleaf, Mich., January 23, 1904.

DR. BOWNE PRESCRIBED "DUFFY'S" 25 YEARS. "I have found that in pneumonia, grip and other exhausting diseases my patients never fail to respond favorably to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Taken as directed it is bound to relieve and permanently cure consumption." Dr. E. H. Bowne, Kingston, N. J., Aug. 3, 1904.

MR. THOMAS MORAN, TEMPERANCE WORKER, SAYS:—"I have lived in Rochester, N. Y., for almost 50 years and people know I am a strict temperance man, but I unhesitatingly recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the great good it did me during my illness. Two months ago I was so weak from bronchitis I could not raise my head. I had a low fever and all the symptoms of a relapse. The doctor ordered my whiskey, and I would not be living to-day but for its use. It made me strong, vigorous—better than I have been in years." July 23, 1904.

For over half a century men and women prominent in the affairs of the nation have been using and endorsing Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as the one certain cure and preventive of disease. The opinions of a few of them are published in a booklet which we mail anyone free on request.

The unrivaled record of this splendid medicine is over 4,000,000 cures. More than 7,000 doctors use it in their homes and prescribe it regularly. In their practice, and its use exclusively, over 5,000 hospitals, its use is absolutely irrefragable, scientifically combined with medicinal ingredients of highest quality. It acts directly upon the diseased organs, in a most careful manner, and strengthens and builds up the entire system. It contains no fuel oil. Every testimonial is published in good faith and guaranteed.
